

Share a Haircut With a Disadvantaged Youth

By Christopher Treacy | August 1, 2011

Charlestown Hair Cuttery's two-week "Share A Haircut" program starts today. From now through the 15th, every time a child (aged 18 years old or younger) receives a haircut at any of the nearly 800 Hair Cuttery salons, including the Charlestown location at 5 Austin Street, a free haircut will be provided to a disadvantaged child in the Charlestown community through a partnership with the Massachusetts Department of Children and Families and the Boys & Girls Club.
